1. F: Hello?

M: Erica, it's Jim. I called you a couple of times before. Was your telephone turned off?

F: Yeah. I was in a movie theater. What's up?

M: Well, about your party, I won't be able to come because I have to work then. Sorry.

F: OK. Never mind.

Q) What does Jim tell Erica?

2.

M: Mom, I want to go to the park to play badminton with some friends.

F: Not today, Adam. You've been sick, so I want you to stay at home today.

M: But I feel fine now. Please.

F: You can watch TV in the living room, but you can't go out today.

Q) What does Adam want to do?

3.

M : Jane, did you buy a ticket for the game?

F : It was so hard but... I got one!

M : Fantastic! I heard that the game was so popular that not everyone could buy a ticket.

F : I saw that on TV too. I called the ticket office so many times, but luckily I could get one.

Q) How could Jane get the ticket?

1. Hi, Judy. This is Kate. You're not at home, so I'm leaving you a message. We decided to meet at 10:00 at the station tomorrow. But I'm sorry I can't go there at that time because I must stay at home and look after my sister. Can we change the time? My brother will be back home by 10:30, so he will look after her from then. Can we meet at 11:00 at the station and watch the movie which starts at 11:45? Is that OK? Please call me later. Bye.

Q) What time can Kate get to the station?
