1. Aran sweaters originally come from the Aran Islands off the coast of Ireland. They are also called fisherman's sweaters. Women made the sweaters as a way to pray for their family's safe return from fishing trips. They are famous for the unique patterns which are different from family to family. They were first made over 100 years ago and brought to Japan more than 50 years ago. Now, Aran sweaters are popular all over the world and their designs are used in other items, such as socks and hats.

Q) What is the story about?

2. Wendy lives in Sydney in Australia. She has some Asian friends. They have told her a lot about their countries. So she is interested in Asian countries. Last summer, she traveled in three Asian countries – Japan, China and Singapore. She stayed for a week in each country and then returned home. She learned that each country has kept its own traditions and cultures.

Q) Why did Wendy become interested in Asian countries?
